Amelie restaurants is committed to protecting your privacy and ensuring that your personal information is handled in a safe and responsible way. We collect and use information when you interact with us, when you use our services and visit our website www.amelierestaurants.co.uk

The information is used for our own purposes to try and improve our services and products to you. We may also use your information for direct marketing purposes, including providing updates, newsletters, events or other communications that we think may interest you. We do not sell it or transfer it to others.

Personal data means any data that relates to an identifiable person who can be directly/indirectly identified from that data. The information that you provide may include your name, date of birth, email address, telephone number, delivery address, financial data, billing address and password.

By providing your personal data, you agree that we can use your personal data in accordance with this policy.

We collect information from you when: you make a booking on our website, you make enquiries on our website, when you talk to us on the phone or visit us, when you sign up to marketing emails, when you order a product, when you take part in a competition or email us.

We have an obligation to contact you from time to time to ensure that the information is up to date, unless you “opt out” as set out below. Please ensure that any information you log onto this Website is accurate at all times. You may ask us to delete your information at any time. If you wish to receive further information about how we store or use your information, please contact info@amelierestaurants.co.uk . You have the right to opt out of this by sending an email to info@amelierestaurants.co.uk or use the opt-out link on our Mailchimp emails.

We will not hold onto your personal data longer than necessary to fulfil our commitment to you as a customer.
